

SHAMAN'S HEART, SHAMAN'S DRUM

Soul Purpose and Healing Initiations

Beth Beurkens

Shamans know that we each come into this lifetime with purposes our souls want to express and with destinies we want to live. You will explore your soul's purpose and destiny, in depth, in this week-long workshop, using the shamanic journey, rites of initiation, fire ceremony, soul tracking, and solo time in the extraordinary wild environment of Schweibenalp.

One of the central questions that you will be working with in this workshop is Are you living the dream the universe has for you?

You will journey back in time to discover the source of an original wounding that may have de-railed your destiny as well as track into the future to retrieve the luminous imprint of your higher calling. Working shamanically with the four chambers of your soul, you will discover old contracts that have kept you bound to fate, renegotiate soul contracts, retrieve your luminous soul of childhood and innate gifts that are absolutely yours for embodying your destiny.

You will be learning to develop your power in this workshop, practicing the Shaman's Way of Seeing Power and learning how to Pass Power for healing purposes. Shamans are often called persons of power, who see with the heart and travel with the spirit.

You will be discovering the shaman's heart, the path of "dreaming the world into being" as you work directly with the luminous energy field of the shaman's net of power.
